

© Larry Canner/Johns Hopkins University - « Hard Histories: Remembering the Orphan Asylum », May 2023

HARD HISTORIES

WORKSHOP
MARCH
25-26-27
2024

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY,
MARCH 25, 26, AND 27, 2024

Location : Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin, 19 Wallotstrasse, 14193, Berlin

Organization :
Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin
Johns Hopkins University
EHESS (UMR 8168 - Mondes américains)

Registration required at : mpilatt1@jhu.edu

Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin

PROGRAM HARD HISTORIES

WORKSHOP
MARCH
25-26-27
2024

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION

Members of the Johns Hopkins Hard Histories Laboratory invite colleagues to join them in comparing the historical approaches to “hard histories” taken by their respective research centers. They wish to extend the analysis to examine how these pasts persist in the present, and how their study helps to imagine a fairer future. By sharing current research while considering the diversity of conceptions of history and memory in Europe and the United States, this workshop will aim comparatively to elucidate what, in historical research, leads to self-examination, the destruction of myths and the breaking of silences. Finally, it will ask how this work can serve the communities it addresses.

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 26, AND 27, 2024

Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin, 19 Wallotstrasse, 14193, Berlin

Organization :

Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin, Johns Hopkins University, and
École des hautes études en sciences sociales (UMR 8168 - Mondes américains)

Please register : mpilatt1@jhu.edu

Speakers :

Ben Gerstein, UCLA School of Law
Lauren Feldman, Johns Hopkins University
Ariela Gross, UCLA School of Law
Leslie M. Harris, Northwestern University
Martha S. Jones, Johns Hopkins University
Maurie Pilatte, Johns Hopkins University
Hélène Quanquin, Université de Lille
Jakob Vogel, Sciences Po Paris