

Wednesday 11th April

8.00pm Dinner at restaurant

Thursday 12th April

8.00am-9.00am Breakfast at Wiko

Session 1 Chair: John Jackson

9.00am Opening remarks- Hannah Mumby

9.15am-9.45am How can long term studies of behaviour help elephant conservation? – Phyllis Lee

9.45am-10.15am Musings on elephant conservation, protection, and socio-ecology: Does culture have a role to play? – Lucy Bates

10.15am-10.45am Elephant cognition matters in a conservationist's world - Joshua Plotnik

10.45am-11.15am Tea

11.15am-11.45am Overcoming barriers in coexisting with elephants – Shermin de Silva

11.45am-12.15pm Males, the Makgadikagi and conflict resolution – Kate Evans

12.15pm-1.45pm Lunch at the Wiko restaurant

Session 2 Facilitator: Hannah Mumby

1.45pm Introduction to session and survey findings

2.00pm-3.30pm Discussion session:
Applied research- Should we do more and how?

3.30pm-3.50pm Tea

3.50pm- 4.30pm Discussion of solutions and next steps using the nominal group approach

4.30pm-4.45pm Wrap up and summary of session

7.00pm Dinner at restaurant

Friday 13th April

8.00am-9.00am Breakfast at Wiko

Session 3Chair: Lucy Bates

9.00am-9.30am A Review of Male African Elephant Sociality and Similarities to Humans - Caitlin O'Connell-Rodwell

9.30am-10.00am Born Free projects – Liz Greengrass and Emily Neil

10.00am-10.30am The management dilemma: removing elephants to save large trees – Michelle Henley

10.30am-11.15am Tea

11.15am-11.45pm Myanmar's semi-captive working elephant population is not sustainable without capture from the wild – John Jackson

11.45pm-12.15pm Where ecology and conservation collide: Measuring male elephants – Hannah Mumby

12.15pm-13.45pm Lunch at the Wiko Restaurant

Session 3Chair: Phyllis Lee

13.45pm-2.00pm Introduction to session- survey findings

2.00pm-3.30pm Discussion Session:
Working with stakeholders- How and when should academics do it?

3.30pm-3.45pm Tea

3.45pm-4.15pm Summary of discussion and next steps

4.15pm-4.30pm Closing remarks – Joshua Plotnik